Vandals Raid Hardy School, Scatter Books, Report Cards

Arlington police are working around the clock to solve a break at the Hardy school which took place some time after 4:30 p.m. New Year's Day.

According to reports damage as a result of the break was set at $389.97.

Entry to the building was said to have been gained through the basement on the Lake street side of the building.

Actual damage to the building itself was said to be slight, and it is not known how many entered the structure.

Twenty-one of the buildings 24 classrooms were said to have been entered and the contents of teachers' desks, pupils desks and book cases scattered around.

Report cards were also found torn up in the building. Glass was broken above a duplicating machine in one room of the structure.

A large part of the actual damage in cost took place when two unlocked storage rooms were entered and various types of light bulbs broken.

Superintendent of Schools, Clifford Hall stated that the school maintenance department was able to clean up the building in time for the opening of classes Monday morning.

Gigantic Shopping Survey To Take Place In Arlington

A gigantic shopping survey will get under way in Arlington next week. Hundreds of housewives will have their buying habits examined and the results may have important implications for the future of Arlington Center.

Concern over the ever-rising tax rate and the need to broaden the tax base has stimulated the League of Women Voters into making this survey. The answers which Arlington residents give to certain questions regarding where and why they shop may contribute needed information as to the direction of redevelopment plans.

The family shopper will be asked if she buys clothes, furnishings, appliances, etc., in Arlington and if not, why not. Also sought after will be her opinion on the need for other kinds of shopping facilities in Arlington.

The survey has been planned under the direction of Mrs. David Ashton and Mrs. Donald Petee, and Mrs. Raymond Yeaton.

co-chairmen of the League's Local Affairs Committee. They have used professional advice along each step of the way from drafting the consumer questions to the briefing of League members in interviewing techniques. With the survey set to begin Thursday, January 15, the chairmen hope to complete the interviewing of more than 500 family shoppers within the next two weeks. More than fifty League members are being trained to conduct the interviews.

Serving on the Local Affairs Committee are the following women: Mrs. Richard Bartholomew, Mrs. William Birchard, Mrs. Robert Dreyfus, Mrs. Chester Ginder, Mrs. Robert Govoni, Mrs. Charles Jacobs, Mrs. Norman Jacobsen, Mrs. Andrew Magnus, Mrs. William McMahon, Mrs. John O'Connell, Mrs. Charles Paskauskas, Mrs. W. A. Rivenburg, Mrs. Ascher Shapiro, Mrs. Arthur Saul, and Mrs. Raymond Yeaton.

Drive Carefully

The Great Crippler

A disease is sometimes so common that the public is inclined to accept it as one of life's many irksome burdens.

Almost everybody knows what arthritis and its usual companion, rheumatism, are. Many even know how they affect their victims. But all too few know that 11,000,000 Americans - men, women and, worse still, children, too - are being harassed, tortured, even crippled by arthritis.

It is, in fact, the country's No. 1 crippling. The economic loss to the nation due to the inability of adult arthritis sufferers to work is estimated at $1,500,000,000 a year. It wrecks businesses, ruins careers and disrupts family life.

The pain and the general discomfort caused by arthritis cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents. In its mildest attacks it is at best a nagging annoyance. In its severest form it can cripple its victim for life and do harm to the heart, lungs or other vital organs.

Its cause is unknown, as well as its cure or prevention.

But there is now fair promise that all three - cause, cure and prevention - will be found. The National Foundation, the famous March of Dimes agency which supported the research that led to the dramatic discovery of the Salk polio vaccine, has expanded its health program to include a scientific assault on arthritis, birth defects and virus diseases. It took The National Foundation, which will continue to fight polio and aid its victims, less than a generation to find the specific defense against that dread disease.

On such past performance, it is reasonable to hope that with the help of the March of Dimes the National Foundation will enjoy as spectacular a success against arthritis.

DOLLARS AND SENSE

Homeowners of Massachusetts, including the owner-occupants of 2-family and larger dwelling structures, pay not less than half of the total property tax, studies made by the Taxpayers Federation reveal. For the year just concluded, 1958, this amounted to more than $300 million.

More than one third of the total Massachusetts property tax is paid by the owners of single family homes, the Federation adds.

Bay State business on the other hand pays a surprising 35 percent of the total tax bill. This is pointed out because there is little likelihood that business property accounts for much over 25 percent of the actual market value of taxable property in Massachusetts.

The explanation of this development lies in two factors. First, higher valuations are consistently placed by local assessors on so-called income properties, particularly retail and utility properties. The second reason is due to the concentration of business property in urban centers with their traditionally higher tax levels. This combination results in the exaggerated tax bills paid by Bay State business.

The reverse side of this particular coin shows that the percentage total of taxes paid by residential property owners - slightly in excess of 60 percent - understates the proportion of residential property to all property on a full value basis, a figure which probably lies in the 65 to 70 percent range. This bias in favor of residential property reflects the local assessors' solicitude for the home-owning and rent-paying voter, and his implicit faith in the taxpaying ability of business.

Joseph Cunha

Joseph H. Cunha, 68, 35 Cleveland street, Arlington died Monday.

A native of Cambridge, he had lived in Arlington for 22 years and was a foreman at the New England Tel. and Tel. where he had been employed for 50 years.

He was a member of the Thomas Sherwin Chapter Telephone Pioneers of America and the Boston Life Member Club.

Surviving are his wife, Helen (Wilder); two sons, Richard J. of Cambridge and John H. of Lexington; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Daniel F. O'Brien Funeral Home, 226 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington with a requiem mass at St. Agnes church.

Interment was in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

DAV Digest

What is the difference between "disability compensation" and "disability pension?" The Disabled American Veterans says there is a big difference, and that many people still confuse the two terms.

Joe Roderick, Commander of the

Wm. Hurley Chapter, DAV, said he would like to stress that disability compensation is awarded to a veteran only for injuries or illnesses incurred as a result of his wartime or peacetime service.

The Armed Forces of the United States. Disability pension, he explained, is paid only to a wartime veteran for injury or illness not connected with his service, and then only under certain conditions.

"Our entire DAV philosophy on compensation to disabled veterans is based on this difference—that disability compensation is an award for services rendered — services which have resulted in injury and disablement."

Dear Sir:

Although the public notices of the death of James J. Golden indicated to some extent the wide scope of his civic interests, one realizes that because of the limitations of space, all of them could not be set forth. Some of them, notably his membership in the Symmes Hospital Board of Trustees and the Arlington Cooperative Bank Board of Directors, were significant.

He was also one of the founders of this Committee when it began its work as a volunteer group in 1948, and gave much of his time and strength to it. A deeply religious man, he was a firm believer in God the Father, and the brotherhood of all mankind. His kindly and understanding counsel will be sorely missed by all with whom he worked.

Yours very truly,
David Govenar Sec'y

Safety Award

Arlington has received an "Excellence of Record" award for the year 1957.

In a letter to Arlington police chief, Albert E. Ryan, Richard W. Hoover, Director, Public Relations and Safety of the Massachusetts Division AAA stated:

"The award is for no pedestrian deaths during 1957, a record you can be proud of. With all the emphasis on safe driving nowadays, we sometimes forget that nearly two-thirds of all urban traffic fatalities are pedestrians. And, of course, pedestrian safety programs are vital for the protection of our school children."

Zoning By-Law Amendments Discussed At Joint Session

Amendments necessary to modernize the zoning by-laws of the town were discussed December 30, at a joint meeting of the Arlington Planning Board and the Arlington Development Commission.

The proposed changes in the zoning regulations which will be recommended by the Planning Board for approval by the 1959

Town Meeting are essentially those submitted by the Joint Planning Committee in their 1956 report. Mr. Allen Benjamin of Wayland served as planning consultant.

Some of these revisions are intended to clarify the present zoning regulations and correct inconsistencies, thereby providing modern by-laws for the town's residential and business property.

Because of the relation of these by-laws to business and industry in the town, the meeting was held to give the members of the Development Commission an opportunity to suggest modifications or improvements of the proposed amendments.

The members of the Joint Planning Committee which submitted the proposed revisions of the zoning by-laws were Edward P. Clark, chairman, John B. Byrne, Jr., Pezi M. Cahaly, Harold Clare, Wallace J. Flynn, Harold B. Gam-mell, Maurice L. Hatch, Elinor I. Jennings, and Thomas D. Kenna, Jr.

Dr. Lawrence Fagan of Brighton has been named as Dental Clinic Dentist at the Board of Health in Arlington, taking the place of Dr. Plummer who died last week.

My baby is 5 months old; how soon will she need shoes and what type or brand do you recommend?

There is no specific age that one can suggest for the first pair of shoes. It requires a formula as follows: take the baby's age and weight and readiness to walk and divide by an honest shoe man or your doctor, preferably, with a smattering of good common sense. There you have it!

Seriously though, the average baby starts to walk about one year, some much earlier, others much later. There is no rush; they will start when they are good and ready.

Shoes will not make them walk; they will, however, make walking easier due to improved balance and support, also acting as a protection for soft feet against the hard floor. Therefore when they start to stand it is time enough for shoes.

I suggest the first pair be firm enough for needed support, but flexible to encourage little feet to take steps comfortably. Don't get heavy stiff shoes that discourage walking.

As to brands, I am going to avoid commercialism and suggest as I have many times, go to a store that carries well known lines of children's shoes, and, more important, has a reputation for proper fit and sincerity.

We feature two leading brands, but, more important, we fit well and stand behind every fitting!

America's First Jetliners Will Shrink Nation

First Jet Service across U.S.A. from New England starts at Boston in mid-1959

One of the most significant advances in U. S. transportation history occurs in January when American Airlines launches the first commercial jet service across the nation with 707 Jet Flagships (shown above).

The most thoroughly tested airliners ever to enter service, the huge 600 mile-an-hour 707 Flagships will trim the nonstop time between Los Angeles and New York, where they will be introduced, to an incredible 4 1/2 hours.

American's big four-engine jets will carry 112 passengers in both first-class and aircoach accommodations (56 in each) and will have considerable cargo carrying capacity. Their speed will shrink the nation another 40 per cent resulting in tremendous savings in time for passengers and shippers.

The principal improvement which may be remembered longer by the passenger than the savings in time is the superior comfort of the great new airliners. American's 707 Jet Flagships are longer, wider and roomier than the slower piston airplanes they will replace and are virtually vibration free because of the turbine engines.

Following the introduction of the 707 Jet Flagships on the transcontinental nonstop route between Los Angeles and New York, service will be expanded to include by mid-1959 San Francisco, Chicago, Dallas, Washington, D. C., Baltimore and Boston.

Polio May Break Out
In 20-40 Group In 60's

More than 1000 polio victims in Middlesex County have received a total of $314,000 for care so far last year, announced Arlington's Local Chairman, Robert Mahoney, 277 Broadway.

During the years since the March of Dimes began in 1938 approximately $300 million has been raised in the United States. More than 300,000 victims have been given direct aid. More than 3000 Chapters have been established.

More than $30 million was spent to develop the Salk vaccine and make other discoveries. Another $30 million was spent to educate the therapists, doctors, nurses, and research workers in the fight against polio.

Now that the Salk vaccine protects against the crippling effects of polio, the National Foundation is expanding to aid broader areas of diseases and disability with arthritis, birth defects, and virus diseases for its initial targets — More than 11 million suffer from rheumatic diseases — Some 250 thousand infants each year are born with defects acquired before birth — Virus diseases — and polio was just one — affect millions of people causing illness, crippling and death.

All those interested in working for this great cause are requested to contact the local chairman. No one is asked to contact more than a dozen homes in the neighborhood.

On January 11, the mothers of Massachusetts, who will participate in the Mothers' March on January 25, will meet in a gala rally in John Hancock Hall, Boston, at which actress Helen Hayes will be the Chairman. Thousands of mothers from all parts of the Commonwealth will gather to enjoy the program, including the best of entertainment and prizes.

Endicott Peabody
Not A Candidate

Many newspaper articles during the past month have mentioned my name suggesting that I might be a candidate for Secretary of State. I am not a candidate and to the extent that I have been considered I withdraw my name from further speculation.

The Office of Secretary of State is an important one and its actions affect every community in our commonwealth. It will benefit Massachusetts most to have an able man fill the office and one who is known throughout the state. In my past two campaigns for Attorney General I have found my friend Joe Ward of Fitchburg a valiant opponent, with a deep desire to serve the people of Massachusetts. It will be helpful to have a man of his talents on Beacon Hill. I urge my good friends in the legislature who have kindly supported me on many occasions to vote for Joe Ward on the first ballot. I am sure they will be rendering a service to our state by so doing.

Officials Tour
Gas Co. Property

Members of the Committee on Garaging of Town Owned Vehicles and Town Officials toured the Grove street Gas Company property along with representatives of the gas company, Saturday.

Although the Gas Company was said not to be concerned with disposition of the property at this time, however, it is willing to consider any proposals the Town of Arlington might have to offer.

Town Manager Edward C. Monahan has stated that the property could be used to house the Park department, the Tree department and all the Department of public works facilities. The location would also be a fine one for possible incinerator construction since there is already a large chimney at the location, according to Mr. Monahan.

The Manager added that the next step in the matter would be to conduct a study of the amount of space needed by the Town for Town Yard facilities and the amount of space now available in the present yard. All information accumulated in this study would then be turned over to the committee.

Members of the Garaging Committee include Robert F. Douglas, Joseph P. Greeley, Frank J. Phillips, Torsten Reensterna, and Clifford E. Lansil.

Florence Westlake

Florence (Kierman) Westlake, 23 Princeton street, Arlington, died January 3.

Funeral services were held from the F. G. Mahoney Funeral Home, 333 Huron avenue, Cambridge, Monday at 8 a.m., with a Requiem High Funeral mass at 9 a.m. in Saint Peter's church, Concord avenue, at 9 a.m.

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES.

Within Town Limits

By Walt Moynihan

Generally, after the Christmas-New Year's holidays the political drums start to beat for those seeking town election. This year, however, it wasn't just drums, but an entire band as name after name was officially or unofficially thrown about the Town Hall and through the streets of the town, swept along by the biting northwest gale.

Uncle, Selectman Franklin W. Hurd has stated that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the Board of Selectmen; unofficially, and the word going the rounds is very positive, he will seek the office of town clerk where a vacancy exists because of the death of James J. Golden.

For some reason, Mr. Hurd has not made a statement as to his future plans, but such a statement is expected next week.

Although nothing public will have been announced regarding Mr. Hurd's "no-run" statement prior to today's newspaper hitting the stands, never-the-less three candidates had already taken out papers for the post at press time.

Included in this group is Charles R. Kent, 71 Brattle street, first year member of the school committee—and from an interpretation of the Town Manager Act, members of the School Committee, Board of Selectmen, and Finance Committee may not hold another Town Office at the same time.

Thus should Mr. Kent be elected to the Selectmen's post he would have to give up his spot on the school committee.

Meanwhile, three candidates have already officially jumped into the contest for Town Clerk. The first two to take out papers were O'Briens—John Henry, 319 Mass. avenue and Robert F., 111 Warren street.

The third who will seek the position is Ralph LaValle, 29 Crosby street.

LaValle, a long-time "man behind the scenes" in elections in recent years apparently wants to take a "shot" at the big "prize" this time and has picked the Town Clerk's contest as the place to start.

At the same time, an interesting race is looming in the Assessor's contest where incumbent Walter S. Coledge, Jr., Robert B. Walsh and Henry E. Keenan have all tossed their hats into the ring.

Walsh, venturing onto the higher political ladder has been a long-time town meeting member, while Keenan is a former representative to the General Court from the 28th District.

Moving to the "upset" section, the school committee, where surprises seem to take place annually, only one of three incumbents, John P. Morine has taken out papers. Also due up for re-election this year is M. Norcross Stratton and Mary K. Boyd. Mr. Stratton seems a certainty to run, but Mrs. Boyd may decide not to run we understand.

A serious challenge is expected to come from Dorothy Keleher Meehan who has taken out papers this week.

Expectations are that more candidates will jump into the Selectmen's race, once the public word of Mr. Hurd's not running is out. We understand from an authoritative source that Mr. Gott will not be a candidate for a town office as rumor had he would last week.

At the same time the names of Tim Buckley and Russell Wedge have been mentioned as potential candidates for Town Clerk along with that of Robert Mahoney.

Incumbent James Coffey has no official competition for housing authority, at least at this writing.

UNICEF Totals In Arlington At $1006 Mark

An evaluation meeting of the Arlington Committee for Unicef (United Nations Children's Fund) was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Bolton, Monday afternoon.

Contributions from the Bartlett School, St. James Parochial School and the public schools totaled one thousand and six dollars and three cents ($1006.03).

Two hundred and eighty-two dollars and eighty-eight cents ($282.88) was received from organizations and individuals.

The Arlington Ministers' Association, Anna Bradshaw Guild, Arlington Girls' Club and Troop 110, Girls' Scouts contributed to the fund.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Bolton expressed her sincere appreciation to the officers and committee workers for their efforts and cooperation.

"I am extremely grateful," she told this reporter, "to the School Department and school personnel and my committee workers, who gave their time so generously, in helping make the Unicef Fund drive a success. To the organizations, school children and individuals, who contributed to the United Nations Children's Fund, I wish to say 'thank you.'"

A check for over one thousand dollars ($1000) will be sent to the Unicef headquarters in New York, to help the 50,000,000 hungry and sick mothers and children, in over 100 countries.

Permit Holders Reminded Of Rate Increase

Permit holders are reminded that, effective January 1, 1959, the rate for circulars, other printed and merchandise is increased from 14 cents to 16 cents per pound and the minimum rate is increased from 1 1-2 cents to 2 cents per piece.

The pound rate for books and catalogs having 24 or more pages (at least 22 of which are printed), seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions and plants remains at 10 cents for each pound or fraction. However, the minimum rate per piece on these articles will increase from 1 1-2 cents to 2 cents.

On circulars, other printed matter and merchandise, if there are 8 or more pieces to a pound, the minimum rate of 2 cents each is charged. If there are less than 8 pieces to the pound you are charged at the rate of 16 cents per pound. In other words, if the piece of mail exceeds two ounces in weight the pound rate is charged.

Plan Nationwide Religious Activities

Joe Roderick, Commander of Wm. Hurley Chapter, Disabled American Veterans, has announced the creation of a special DAV commission to plan nationwide religious activities and functions of the organization.

The DAV Commander said the new DAV commission on religious affairs is composed of past national chaplains Rev. Edward M. Flannery of Chicago, Illinois, and Raab Louis Parris of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and the present national chaplain, Rev. Knox Holley of Shelbyville, Tennessee.

"We want nothing more," he said, "than that the Disabled American Veterans, along with serving needy veterans with service-connected disabilities, and their dependents, will unitedly under God strive to promote honorable world peace and harmony within our country among all Americans of all races, colors, creeds and occupations."

"In appointing a Catholic, a Jew and a Protestant to this new DAV commission on religious affairs, the DAV hopes to emphasize that Americans of all faiths are striving for the same goals, and should work to attain them."

Recommend Extension For Four Years

Local disabled veterans have recommended that the Universal Military Training and Service Act, which is due to expire next July 1, be extended for another four years.

Joe Roderick, Commander of the Wm. Hurley Chapter, said his Chapter membership has joined with other DAV units throughout the nation in urging the extension.

"It is our feeling," he said, "that selective service is based on the accepted principles of the universal obligation and privilege of all citizens to defend this nation. The impending termination of induction authority under the act will leave this country without an effective obligation for every young man to serve in the armed forces."

"We feel that the draft is essential to insure the maintenance of the required strength of our military forces. Actually, selective service has become an integral part of our defense system."

The DAV Commander lauded local boards of the Selective Service System. He said they render invaluable service and would be especially valuable in the event of an all out emergency because of their ability to furnish manpower at local levels to any agency authorized to requisition men for specific duties.

He pointed out that some 40,000 of the 46,000 full and part-time officers and employees of the Selective Service System have volunteered their services to the government and receive no compensation.

CENTRAL BUILDING OF ROBBINS LIBRARY CALLED INADEQUATE TO SERVE LOCAL AREA

The Central building of the Robbins library, while it has stood the test of time better than many of its contemporaries is now inadequate to serve a community with such a high reading level," according to a survey submitted to the Board of Trustees and the Librarian by John A. Humphrey, director, the city library, Springfield, ing both adults and young adults. brarian, Harvard college library, Cambridge.

"Although an addition was built in 1931 to house an area for service to children and a meeting room, the building is now crowded. It is difficult to provide modern library service in a building which has high vaulted ceilings, many corridors, many floor levels, steep stairways, spiral stairways, small cut-up areas, restricted stack areas and, most important of all, inefficient relationships between service areas and service and workroom areas. In spite of these difficulties, however, there are many changes which can be made to make the library more inviting to the public and also increase the efficiency of its operation. Because the central library building is well located and relocation of service areas is possible, two principal recommendations are inexpensive to accomplish and which will make much more advantageous use of the building. Secondly, and as a ten-to-fifteen-year goal, an addition should be planned to add needed floor space. This addition should not be contemplated, however, until maximum use is made of existing facilities," the survey continues.

"During the time the town is increasing to its projected population figure, more and more demands are going to be made on the library due to the impetus being given education. If the and to provide the people of all age groups with the books and information to make intelligent decisions, plans must be made now for its expansion. We recommend, therefore, in addition to immediate plans, to be described in detail below, that the ten-to-fifteen-year goal be an addition squaring off the building. This additional area could be used for adult services, for children's services, or for both. The changes recommended for immediate action would tie into plans for an addition to the building," according to the survey.

The following is a list of recommendations for changes to the present building as presented by those who compiled the survey:

"It is unwise to use premium space for a catalog room when service areas are desperately needed. Assign the present Catalog Room as a service area for work with young adults. This would require a minimum amount of expenditure since the room is now equipped with shelving. Because this room is located between the Children's Room and the adult service areas, the use of this space for young adults would place it in its proper relative location, that is, between the area provided for children and that for adults.

"Remove the service desk in the Children's Room and build a new modern, functional desk near the corridor leading to the adult service areas. Work space could then be found adjacent to the desk: first, in the alcove to the left as one enters the Children's Room from the corridor, and, second, in the corridor itself. The Supervisor of Work with Children needs desperately a place to do behind-the-scenes work, especially that related to service to schools. The relocation of the Children's Room desk would free valuable space for more free-standing bookcases and tables and chairs. It is also recommended that books not be placed on tables but be kept in bookcases.

"Remove the present horseshoe-type circulation desk for adults and construct a new, long counter-type desk perpendicular to the entrance and opposite the desks now used by the Young Adult Librarians. Such a circulation desk would permit control of all parts of the adult service areas. Assign the other end of the corridor which is near the adult service areas as a circulation workroom. At the time that these work areas are provided, some of the individual desks in the public service areas should be removed.

"Use the area presently used for service to young adults as a general reference collection serving both adults and young adults. In an effort to make the main reading room more attractive to the adults, it is recommended that new, modern, functional library tables, chairs, and low, free-standing bookcases be added. With some of the reference materials and magazines removed from the main reading room shelves, many more current non-fiction books, including special and subject bibliographies, could be shelved in this room, making the area much more useful for adults.

"Remove the inside Music Room wall and complete the floor to the stack level opposite. Close the third stack level to the general public. Magazines and government documents could be housed on this third level and the books shelved here be brought down to the first or second-floor level for a more attractive browsing area. "Use the gallery rotunda area for art and music, after having checked the floor for load capacity. If the print collection cannot logically be even away or placed on permanent deposit with another library specializing in such material, then it should be incorporated into the art and music collection, which would afford the opportunity to use the curator as an assistant in the general operation of this section of the library. At the time, however, that the art and music collection is moved, an elevator should be installed in the area now containing the spiral stairway and it should stop at three main levels. The elevator should be large enough to accommodate a book truck as well as serve passengers.

"Adequate workroom space could be found in the basement area so that the ordering, cataloging and other processing of books could be done in assembly-line fashion, making these operations much more efficient."

Concerning the branch library, the survey read as follows:

"The branch libraries are undoubtedly feeling the effects of the need for a more adequate central library building and services. Both the East and Dallin branch libraries are located on main arteries, easy of access, and provide creditable library service. In view of the fact that facilities at the Central Library are not what they should be, more demands are made upon these branch libraries than might ordinarily be the case. It is the opinion of the surveyors that adoption of the program described will ease the pressure on both branch libraries. In the foreseeable future, it would be unwise to take steps to enlarge either of the branch libraries. Indeed, for a town the size of Arlington, it would be impossible to justify more or larger branch libraries. In due course, however, it would be possible to make an attractive children's room in the basement meeting room of the Dallin Branch and perhaps an outdoor reading area could be made in the rear yard. The provision for separate quarters for children would free space for a more commodious adult service area on the main floor. An attractive and easily read sign for the Dallin Branch Library would serve a useful purpose."

Golden, Finance Committee To Be Honored By League

A Civic Award Night is being planned by the League of Women Voters of Arlington. It will take place in Town Hall, Tuesday evening, January 17 at 8 p.m.

This event marks the tenth year of the League in Arlington. "We feel it is fitting to observe this anniversary by honoring a group of citizens who outstandingly exemplify the League ideal of 'informed citizen participation in government,'" said Mrs. Kenneth Spengler, president of the League.

Following the awards, a panel of citizens will discuss with a panel of League members how citizens work for better government.

The audience is also invited to ask questions of the panel. "Arlington's citizens are invited to participate in paying this trib- 1

One Vote For An Overpass

Monday night a Cambridge youngster was in collision with an automobile, while crossing Route 2 toward the M.D.C. skating rink in Belmont.

Fortunately, the condition of the boy is good according to Symmes hospital as this paper goes to press.

However, the point is that more drastic steps on the entire matter should be taken before one or more fatal accidents occur in the vicinity.

Arlington Police Chief Albert E. Ryan suggested that an overpass be constructed over Route 2 to the rink even before the M.D.C. project was underway.

Members of the Arlington Board of Selectmen have repeatedly been trying to get some action on this matter.

A few weeks ago, the State Police stationed a Patrolman at Lake street and the Concord Turnpike between the hours of 4-6 p.m. to help alleviate the situation, but this does not seem to be the complete answer to the problem.

Only last Monday night the Arlington Board of Selectmen discussed a communication from Charles W. Greenough, Commissioner of the M.D.C. in response to a letter from the Board written December 10 relative to the overpass situation.

The Board was advised that the matter would come under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Public Works. The Board now has written to that group relative to the matter.

The status of Route 2 is completely "Up in the Air." An announcement from Commissioner DiNatale's office read at the meeting of the Board of Selectmen New Year's week stated "that until additional funds are available it will be necessary to defer work on Route 2 through the towns of Arlington and Belmont."

These funds, when they come would allow construction on Route 2, which would alleviate present problems, but certainly such a time seems one, possible many years away.

Meanwhile, youngsters will continue to cross Route 2 one way or another, possibly 'til one or more are killed. The overpass seems the only logical answer.

Babson Discusses

HEALTH

Exclusive NEWS Feature

Babson Park, Mass.—Every reader of my weekly column knows two things: First, that I have just returned from a 20,000-mile trip to Africa; and secondly, that I am not a physician and have not the right to speak with authority on health.

THE REPORT OF DOCTORS

I have had some rheumatism in my left leg, and Mrs. Babson has had some bursitis in her shoulder. We have been to nine doctors and all have told us: "Forget it. Almost everyone your age has aches and pains." The above doctors' comment may be true; but this is what I know! After two weeks on a cargo steamer of the Farrell Lines, during which time I had no mail, no cables, and no telephone calls, my rheumatism went away entirely and Mrs. Babson had no bursitis.

I exercised considerably, walking on deck, and went to bed early leaving my porches wide open. In fact, my cabin had good cross ventilation. During the time spent on the ocean and in the wilds of Africa, we were free of all aches, we "ate like pigs, and slept like babies." Upon returning home, I found my desk piled with mail; whether my rheumatism will return I do not know! But my guess is that many such aches are due to the unnecessarily busy and nervous lives we lead. Doctors should tell us to take our religion more seriously and practice more of Jesus' teachings against struggles and worries.

IS WARM WEATHER CLIMATE SUFFICIENT?

Many feel that if they go to some warm climate in the winter, it will solve their health problems. Perhaps so; but probably not, if they continue to receive too much mail, use the telephone too freely, and enter into the customary social life of southern winter resorts. I have a definite illustration in this connection which shows the need of exercise both in the house and in the fresh air. Let me tell you about this.

Among my acquaintances is the widow of a former president of one of the largest chemical companies in this country. They had a beautiful home in Florida and were very wealthy. She suffered greatly from arthritis in her hands. She finally sent North for the nation's most famous specialist in arthritis to come to Florida and spend a few days in her home where she was living with her six servants. When he returned North, the doctor left the following prescription.

A SPECIALIST'S PRESCRIPTION

"Sleep with windows open and a fan blowing in your face, as if you were sleeping on the deck of a steamer. Neither give nor attend cocktail parties, and always leave the dinner table a little hungry."

Then the specialist added:—"most important of all, after each meal let your hands soak in hot water for fifteen minutes, as if you were washing dishes! Each morning, go out on the lawn and stretch as though you were hanging clothes to dry on a line! Finally, get an indoor bicycle to ride, and discharge five of your six servants, including the chauffeur!" In about a week came a bill for one thousand dollars.

SOMETHING I DO KNOW ABOUT

Africa is a most wonderful continent, rich in all natural resources except oil. It has four strong banks with hundreds of branches; these pay 4 1/2 per cent interest on time deposits. Africa has wonderful stores and factories of all kinds in such cities as Cape Town, Johannesburg, Pretoria, and especially Salisbury in Southern Rhodesia. In Johannesburg, sixty-five years ago, there were only a few people and they all lived in tents. Today the population is six hundred thousand, and there are dozens of skyscraper buildings.

If I were a young man, I would seriously consider settling in Africa for health and a fortune. I would forget diamonds and gold, but invest in either the copper industry or the chemical industry. I am sorry to say that Africa, unlike Canada, is on the pound-shilling-pence basis, which handicaps Americans who would like to invest therein. When, however, Africa goes on the decimal system, like Canada, there will be even greater opportunities, for both investment and profit. In conclusion, let me say that one need not take sea trips to Africa for either health or investment. Many states in good old U.S.A. offer both to those who are thrifty, honest, and patient.

From Beacon Hill

BY JAMES G. COLBERT

Former Boston Post Political Editor

As he starts his second term on Beacon Hill, Foster Furcolo is in the most powerful and, at the same time, the most difficult position of any Democratic Governor in the modern history of Massachusetts.

No Democratic Governor back through the sweep of the years had the same power Furcolo now possesses to place new laws on the statute books of the Commonwealth—laws which could affect the every-day lives of every person across the State.

And no Governor, Democrat or Republican, ever was confronted with problems as monumental and staggering as those which now face Furcolo.

Whether Furcolo can meet those problems, do the things which must be done, enact the painful laws which must be adopted and survive politically after doing so, is a question which will be answered only by time and events still to come in the misty reaches of the future.

The late Paul A. Dever, when he started his first gubernatorial term just 10 years ago, had the greatest power of any Democratic Governor up to that time.

But Dever's power was lesser and his responsibility lighter than that of Furcolo. Dever's problems were minor by contrast with those which sit like great roadblocks astride the political path Furcolo is traveling toward—his hopes—a seat in the U. S. Senate.

Had Democratic House

Dever in 1949 had a House which was Democratic, but not by as big a margin as the one over which John F. Thompson will preside this year. In the Senate a decade ago, the Democrats and Republicans were evenly split, with the GOP able to block anything on which it could command a solid vote.

Furcolo has a House and Senate which, theoretically at least, should be completely responsive to him. Psychologically, he can't afford to suffer a single setback.

While Furcolo has more power to wield and more strings to pull, he also has heavier responsibilities than Dever did, and more is expected of him. Because of the unprecedented control the Democrats now exercise on Beacon Hill, there is a disposition on the part of some people to expect the Governor to produce miracles.

It will be something of a miracle if Furcolo can overcome the massive problems staring him in the face.

The most troublesome problem confronting Paul Dever when he first donned the gubernatorial mantle was the MTA and what to do about its deficit which was mounting to proportions then considered startling and shocking.

Actually, the MTA is a bigger problem today than it was 10 years ago. Its fares are higher, its deficit greater, its service poorer. But it rates pretty far down on Furcolo's list of headaches if, indeed, he even bothers to put it on his list.

Governor Furcolo has to raise so much additional money from new sources that most legislators shudder when the amount is even mentioned.

A 3 percent limited sales tax, which two years ago was proposed as the solution to the problems confronting the cities and towns as well as the Commonwealth, would not by itself yield enough money to balance the State budget this year. It would only be a starter.

The withholding tax system, if adopted, would help momentarily. But between them they wouldn't produce anywhere near what is now said to be needed.

Prestige Higher

If Furcolo follows the established political strategy, which he very rarely does, he will endeavor to feed the people all the bad medicine in the form of new taxes this year, so that they will have as much time as possible to recover from the shock before the 1960 election.

Entirely apart from the Democratic majorities in both branches of the Legislature, Governor Furcolo is much stronger today than he was two years ago at the start of his first term.

His prestige is higher as a result of his reelection. He has two years of experience on Beacon Hill behind him.

The experiment of attempting to operate without a chief secretary has been abandoned, and his office now is skillfully directed by former Suffolk County Assistant District Attorney Daniel J. O'Connell, Jr., an extremely able executive, who has been able to spare the Governor many of the headaches and woes which plagued him when he first assumed office.

Governor Furcolo should be able to accomplish a very high percentage of the things he attempts to do this year.

There is little doubt but that his withholding bill, which last year was three times rejected by the Senate, will be quickly adopted.

His chances of getting a sales tax are good, although that fight will be fraught with some uncertainty.

Drive Given Lift

Ward, popular with his fellow members when he served in the House of Representatives, was endorsed for Attorney General by the 1956 Democratic pre-primary State convention, but subsequently was defeated by Edward J. McCormack, Jr., in the September primary.

He was a candidate for the Attorney General nomination again last year but withdrew from the contest after losing to McCormack at the June convention.

Ward's drive for election as the next Secretary of State was given a lift when former Governor's Councilor Endicott (Chub) Peabody, who had battled him in Attorney General contests at two State conventions, announced that he would not be a candidate for Secretary of State and declared his support of Ward.

Peabody actually had not been conceded any real chance of gaining election since it is anticipated that the position will go to a present or former member of the Legislature. His action swung only a handful of votes to Ward, but it did give the latter a psychological boost.

Strongest candidates against Ward probably will be State Senator Elizabeth A. Stanton of Fitchburg, Representative William F. Keenan of Dorchester and Representative Armand Tancrati of Springfield. Francis X. Ahearn, top assistant to the late Secretary Cronin, is in the fight but is handicapped by the fact that he has never served in the Legislature.

A darkhorse in the event a deadlock develops is former State Senator Daniel Rudsten of Dorchester who challenged Governor Furcolo for the Democratic gubernatorial endorsement for a period last June but withdrew when he failed to win any votes at the pre-primary convention.

Most of the members of the staff of the late Attorney General George Fingold have been notified by Attorney General McCormack that they will be dropped Jan. 20 when McCormack will officially begin the term to which he was elected in November.

ALISTAIR COOKE, internationally famed host of TV's "Omibus" program, who will be guest of honor and a speaker at the opening dinner of the Massachusetts 1959 Heart Fund drive, Wednesday night, Jan. 28, in the Hotel Somerset, Boston.

Eleven Million Crippled By Arthritis

No less than 11,000,000 Americans, maybe as many as thirty million are tortured, crippled or deformed by arthritis—and thousands of them are children, too—but medicine doesn't know its causes, nor worse still, its cure.

It's one of the oldest ailments known to man. It disables more people than any other disease. It disrupts family life, it wrecks businesses, it ruins careers.

At latest count, approximately 320,000 Americans are so disabled by either osteoarthritis, the "wear and tear" kind due to age or labor, or rheumatoid arthritis, the No. 1 crippler in the nation, that they can no longer work. Economic experts figure the production loss, the cost of maintaining the victims and the decrease in income taxes runs to a billion and a half dollars a year.

Yet, there are only 700 beds set aside for arthritis sufferers throughout the country and only 400 clinics, chiefly in bigger cities, attempt to ease their pain—somehow.

At the moment, medicine can offer the victims only aspirin, heat treatments, exercise and rehabilitation.

But now there is fresh hope that the causes of arthritis and a cure for it will be found.

The National Foundation, in a move that may be as medically historical as its famous successful assault on polio, has launched a vast new research program to conquer arthritis, birth defects and virus diseases.

The Foundation, which sponsored the dramatic discovery of the Salk Vaccine with funds raised by the March of Dimes, will continue its mission against polio and will keep on extending generous aid to its victims.

Now, however, considerable sums must be allocated by The National Foundation to obtain more disease fighters, more trained minds and skilled hands—more young doctors to concentrate on arthritis, more research scientists, more biochemists, more nurses, more medical social workers, more physical and occupational therapists. To encourage such specialization, the Foundation will award 505 four-year $500 scholarships a year over the next 10 years to high school and college students who will undertake such studies.

CHISOLM'S 2 MARKERS GIVE LOCALS 2-1 WIN OVER NEWTON IN G.B.I. TILT

Arlington squeezed two goals into the nets in the second period and then held off Newton to hang onto first place all alone in the G.B.I. race Saturday at the Boston Arena.

Meanwhile, defending champion Melrose kept pace with the locals, trailing by a single point, as it knocked Belmont into third place with a 3-1 victory. Belmont now leads fourth place Stoneham by a single point.

At the same time Cambridge Latin halted Medford's three game winning spree with a 3-2 decision over the Mustangs. The two clubs are now deadlocked for the top spot in the second division.

Stoneham solidified its hold in the first division by handing Rindge Tech its seventh consecutive setback.

League-leading scorer Charlie Chisolm tallied both Arlington goals in the second stanza. Chisolm hit the nets at 2:03 scoring unassisted, and then moved Arlington out front from Aiken at 9:13.

Newton's only score came at 3:51 in the final canto with Downing scoring from Keenan and Thompson.

Arlington is still the top scoring club in the league with 26 goals scored while Melrose is the top defensive team having allowed but ten goals thus far.

Rindge Tech has the dubious honor of having scored less goals, 4, and having more scored against than any other club, 32.

March of Dimes Poster Children

These two children symbolize the thousands of disabled youngsters who will be helped by the 1959 March of Dimes fund-raising campaign. They are Pamela Henry, 8, of Oklahoma City, Okla., who has had polio paralysis since she was 14 months old; and Jeffrey Reil, 10, of New York, born with a defective spine (spina bifida). Like other children disabled by polio, birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis, they will get patient aid under the new expanded health program of the National Foundation (originally the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis).

Arlington Takes 4 Firsts, But Bows 42-35 to Watertown

Arlington high school's Division II track entry in the Met Track Loop gave defending champion Watertown a close race as the Loop opened its season at the East Newton street, Armory, Saturday. Watertown rolled to a 42-35 victory, but Arlington was able to grab off four of the nine first place spots, taking firsts in the 300, the 50 yard dash, the mile and the relay.

Bicknell of Arlington won the 300 in 38.7 seconds with Ameraldo of Arlington finishing second and Borghetti of Watertown third.

Igoe of Watertown took top honors in the 600, winning in 1:27.7 seconds. Ceuviles and Seery of Arlington took second and third place positions.

A jump of 4 feet 4 inches was good enough to give Riccio of Watertown first place in the high jump while Radochia of Arlington took second spot and Kenneth of Watertown third.

Riccio won the 1600 for Watertown in 2:37.6 seconds with Carnell of Watertown finishing second and Garci of Arlington third.

Watertown swept the hurdles competition with Dole taking top honors in 6.5 seconds; MacDonald finished second and Haggerty third.

Devletian of Watertown won the shot put with a toss of 47 feet 11 1-22 inches, with team-mates Bianchi and Messina taking the second and third spots.

Arlington's Golden won the 50 yard dash in 5.9 seconds with Bianchi of Watertown taking down second place and McHugh of Arlington third.

The local quartet of Golden, Mahoney, Ameraldo, and Bicknell won the relay in 2:12.5 seconds.

Arlington On Top Alone With Win Over Cambridge

Charlie Chisolm poked in an unassisted marker in the second period to give Arlington high school a 2-1 victory over Cambridge Latin high school, to take over undisputed possession of first place in the G.B.I. loop December 31 at the Boston Arena, while defending champion Melrose, undefeated since the season opener against Arlington moved into a second place tie with Belmont which failed to win for second consecutive week.

Cambridge Latin, one of the top defensive clubs in the league trailing five other clubs in the standings, had battled to successive 1-1 ties against Melrose and Stoneham going into the pre-New Year game.

The Latin Club opened the scoring in the first period with Woods tallying from Dooley and the score in the same canto, setting the stage for the Chisolm marker at 6:18 mark of the second period.

Meanwhile, powerful Melrose, back at somewhere close to full strength for the first time in some weeks, continued its drive toward a fourth consecutive league crown by walloping Newton, which now leads only winless Rindge Tech in the eight club league.

Stoneham hung onto a share of fourth place by virtue of its tie with Belmont, while Medford, ran off what is now the longest winning streak in the league by beating Rindge 3-0 for its third straight.

Arlington 61 Cambridge 55

Arlington high school's basketball team jumped into a 30-18 halftime lead and then went on to beat Cambridge Latin 61-55 in a Suburban League contest Tuesday in Arlington.

Arlington moved ahead 15-12 in the opening period and then salted the verdict away by outscoring the Cantab club 15-6 in the second period.

Donovan and Gilpatrick tallied 17 points each for Arlington, while Freeman tallied 13 and Scully 10. Slate scored 20 points for the losers, while Weisman and Sousa tallied 20 each.
